Subject: Microsoft Settlement

To whom it may concern;

I am fully opposed to the settlement regarding the Microsoft case. I regard the settlement as another opportunity to allow an already very powerful company excessive inroads into the educational market which remains one of the strongholds of Apple computers market share. Though my interest isn't so much in their gain, I fear that any settlement reached with Microsoft that could bias the platform determination of a school, may lead to Apple computers overturn, thereby leaving my, and millions of other users, investments without continued support.

A more fair solution may be to continue with the same monetary settlement, which would have to be spent on competitor's products, i.e. non-wintel systems. This would still provide schools with much needed equipment, while not allowing the corporation to benefit from legislative action which is intended to be a punitive.

Thank You

Brad Anderson
